

King County

Department of Natural Resources and Parks
Wastewater Treatment Division

Underground Storage Tank Facility Concept

This is a typical profile of an underground storage tank facility used for controlling flows in a wastewater conveyance system. Tank size will vary depending on target storage volume. The depth of the tank below the surface depends on topography and elevations of the associated conveyance pipelines.